R. K. Redding Construction Promotes Casey Pollard and Steven Hill

These two long-standing executives rewarded with expanded responsibilities

BREMEN, Ga. (April 22, 2014) – R. K. Redding Construction (RKR), a full service, multi-disciplinary construction management and construction firm, is pleased to announce that Casey Pollard and Steven Hill are expanding their roles. Pollard becomes the Vice President of Strategic Planning & Development, while Hill is named the Vice President of Marketing & Employee Services.

"We are excited to recognize and reward both Casey and Steven, as the two of them have played such an instrumental role in our company's success through the years," said Randall Redding, President/CEO of RKR. "Their knowledge of our industry and our company, along with their tremendous work ethic, make them ideal candidates to lead our team as we are poised for significant growth in 2014 and beyond."

Pollard will lead business development and co-coordinate client planning services. He previously served as Project Manager on dozens of projects for RKR. He was recently selected by the Associated General Contractors (AGC) of America to serve on its national Leadership Council Steering Committee. He also serves on the Board of Directors for AGC Georgia Chapter, the Chairman of the AGC Georgia Young Leadership Program and on the Haralson County Chamber Board.

Hill has been instrumental in RKR's growth through the years and will use his diverse background and accomplishments to expand opportunities for workforce development and services. Hill's focus will insure that RKR remains on the cutting edge of technology, training and employee resources.
